

984 Government Service Offices Pass, 39 Fail the 2014 Anti-Red Tape Survey

epublic Act No. 9485 or the Anti-Red Tape Act requires the conduct of a Report Card Survey (RCS) to obtain feedback on how government agencies follow their Citizen's Charter. The Citizen's Charter states the procedures for availing frontline services, documents to be submitted, fees to be paid, time to finish the transaction and where to file complaints or comments. The RCS also checks if agencies comply with ARTA provisions which include the observance of the No Noon-break Policy, no fixing activities, wearing of easy-to-read IDs or nameplates by frontline service providers, and presence of public assistance and complaints desk. Feedback on customer satisfaction is also obtained through RCS.

In 2014, the Civil Service Commission (CSC) as the lead implementer of ARTA, assessed all 1,023 service offices of nine (9) government agencies using the Anti-Red Tape Act-Report Card Survey (ARTA-

The Report Card Survey rating scheme is as ows: service offices which obtained a score of 90 to 100 are rated Excellent. Those with scores of 90 to 100 but have a failing mark in one area are rated Outstanding; scores of 80-89.99 are rated Good; 70-70.99 are Acceptable; 69.99 and below are Failed. Offices that fail in any of the two core RCS areas, regardless of the final numerical rating incur a "Failed" rating. The 39 failed service offices underwent the Service Delivery Excellence Program (SDEP) to determine and
